T. M. Schumacher Also Conferring With Traffic Director Stubbs Concerning Traffic Statters,

San Francisco, Cal., April 19.-W. H. Bancroft of Salt Lake, vice president and general manager of the Oregon Short Line, is here and has had a conference with E. H. Harriman. It is understood that the question of expediting the work of construction now in progress in the southern part of Nevada was one of the matters considered.

T. M. Schumacher traffic manager of the Oregon Short Line, and M. S. Dean vice president and general manager of the Butte, Anaconda and Pacific Railroad, which has 26 miles of road running from Butte to Anaconda and is owned by them Anaconda Copper company, accompanied Mr. Bancroft on his trip to this city. Schumacher is here to confer with Traffic Director Stubbs concerning traffic matters, and Dean has come to California on a pleasure

NO SWITCHING RATES. Eastern and Southern Roads Agree to Cut Charges.

Chicago, April 19.-By an agreement entered into between the executive officials of all eastern and southern roads and the Northwestern and the St. Paul, all local factories on these lines will in the future not have to pay switching

The agreement goes into effect at once and gives hundreds of factories within a large radius the advantage of the "Chicago rates," whereas in the past they have been compelled to pay the "Chicago rates" plus whatever the switching charges might be. The advantage to the industries thus affected is large as the average switching charges in the territory covered has been $5 per car. Under the new arrangement the switching charges will be $3 per car and will be absorbed by the railroads parties to the agreement. It is said that the move is a start toward abrogating to the shipper all switching charges within the limits of the city and manufacturing suburbs. The roads thus far subscribing to the arrangement are: Baltimore and Ohlo, Chicago and Eastern Illinois, Illinois Central, Mo-non, Northwestern, St. Paul. Grand Trunk, Lake Shore, Michigan Central, Nickel Plate, Panhandle, Pennsylvania and Wabash.

M'CONNELL'S OFFER.

Utah Man Talks About Resource On Route of Moffat Line. The Denver Republican says: "Judge

J. T. McConnell of Utah was closeted during the greater part of yesterday with officers and representatives of the Denver & Northwestern railway. The meeting took place at the Brown hote where the visitors exhibited samples of the resources of northern Utah that surprises men who thought themselves well acquainted with the riches of th region through which the line is pro jected. Judge McConnell has spent 1 Utah. He first went to the state as Indian agent, and after several years among the tribes making the Untah reservation their home, he settled in Vernal. There he had opportanity of easy access to the forbidden region. Through special act of Congress, Judge McConnell and his as-sociates, under the name of the Rayen Mining company and the Florence Min ring company, were granted title to 100 valuable mining claims in the reserva-tion and an additional tract of 640 acres of land. The land was selected by experts and an immensely valuable mine of rubber shale, large bodies of parafine wax, tracts of asphaltum and land giving evidence of rich deposits of setroleum are in the list owned by the Utah man and his companies. A rubber factory has been established in Chicago, where the mineral rubber is treated and made into almost any article requiring the use of rubber. parafine wax is pronounced the purest in America, and other deposits, of which the lucky holders are saying bothing, are said to be even more valu-

Judge McConnell made a proposition to the Northwestern company, the de-tails of which were not given out, in volving a big subscription to stock the company if the road is built. He described the region of northern Utah as a paradise of mountains, water courses and lakes, with beautiful val leys and the most attractive scenery the continent. He alleges his complaint that, on August 12, 1900 was coming in from Saltair on one of the company's trains which was so padly crowded that he was unable to secure a seat and was compelled to stand on the platform, and finally, on nearing the depot, was crowded off and fell against a switch, which resulted in the loss of his left eye.

The company set up a defense of contributory negligence and the jury returned a verdict in its favor.

SPECIAL FIRE DRILL. British Officers Given an Eye Opener On American Speed.

An interesting fire drill was given at station No. 1 this morning by Chief Devine in Honor of Maj.-General Sir Robert Stewart, K. C. B., of the British regular army, his daughter, Miss Stewart, and Lieut.-Col. Hollard, also of the British army...

The performance consisted in hitching the entire apparatus a number of times, a run with the chemical and stretched while the wagon is running at full speed. The horses from the chemical were then taken out into the street, and at the sound of the gong. they dashed into their places under the harness.

The visitors were delighted and amazed at the speed with which the alarms were responded to and were loud in their praise for the department After several exhibitions were given and the department thoroughly exam-ined. Miss Stewart was given a hairraising whirl in Chief Devine's buggy. She was taken three or four blocks at a high rate of speed and said it was the fastest buggy ride she had ever the ride, however, and said she would like very much to repeat it.

FUNERAL SERVICES.

To Be Held in the Assembly Hall of The Eighteenth Ward.

Funeral services over the remains of John B. Furster, whose sudden demise has already been stated in the "News." will be held tomorrow, Sunday, in the Assembly hall, at 10:20 a. m. The change has been made in order to give a larger number of friends of the deceased an opportunity of being present. The remains can be viewed previous to the services at the home of the departed, 120 north East Temple street.

Elder Furster was, in his early days a member of the Baptist church in Co-penhagen, but when Apostle Erastus Snow and co-laborers came to Den-mark, he and his wife received the Gospel. On the 12th day of August, 1850, they and thirteen others were taptized. These were the first to join the Church in Denmark. In 1882 he arrived in Utah and located in Sali Lake City. where he has lived ever since. In later years Elder Furster has been a faithful Temple worker. L. D. S. BOYS WIN. Defeated Weber Stake Academy by a Score 53 to 1. The game of basket ball between the

. D. S. university team and the Weber Stake academy team yesterday afternoon in Ogden was a very one-sided affair. The L. D. S. boys handled the ball throughout the game, and though the academy boys tried hard, they could do nothing against the superior skill of the champions, who had them at their mercy from start to finish. At the middle of the last half or after the game had been in progress for 25 min-utes, the Weber Stake academy gave up the game as a useless effort. The score stood 53 to 1 in favor of the L. D. S. university. This is the most remarkable score yet made in the state, the points never before reaching 50 in single game.
The girls' game between the two schools resulted in a score of 8 to 9 in favor of Ogden. This result was due, it favor of Ogden. This result was due, it is claimed by the L. D. S. people, to the fact that the rules were changed requiring each player to keep within a certain area of the field. To step over that area was called a foul. All the academy baskets were thrown on fouls, the only field throw being by Mae Taylor of the L. D. S.

CORBETT AFTER JEFFRIES. Ex-Champion Will Leave Shortly to Meet the Big Fellow. According to advices from New York

James J. Corbett will leave New York shortly to meet Champlon James J. Jeffries. He goes to attempt to arrange a match in the prize ring. Gentleman James' intention was to leave unheralded and without press agents In fact, no one would have known any thing of his intended departure, or o his trip to the coast, had it not been for a slip of the tongue to a news-paper correspondent. It is Corbett's intention to quietly call upon Jeffries and to try and arrange a twenty or twenty-five round bout to occur in Cali-fornia. He will endeavor to insist upon Jeff making good the promise he gave him after the champion defeated him at the Coney Island club. It will be remembered that in that battle up to the twenty-third round Corbett made Jeffries look like the veriest novice hitting him where and when he pleased and outpointing him at every turn and twist. Then, with victory within his grasp, for the only decision that could have been rendered would have been in 'orbett's favor, Gentleman Jim becan erconfident, and Jeffries managed to in a terrible blow that proved the and out. After that battle Jeffries promised

Corbett a return match, but afterward declined to meet him. Corbett believes that if he can have a private talk with Jeffries he can induce him to make good his words. At least he is willing to go to the coast and make the trial. I am not going to trust to letters, go-betweens, managers, or telegraphic messages," said Corbett, when pressed this afternoon to explain his intentions. "Neither I am going to do any talking about it. I shall leave for San Francisco shortly, and directly upon my arrival there I shall hunt up Jeffries. It is for the purpose of seeing him that I am making the trip. I shall have a talk with him and endeavor to persuade him to meet me in the ring. I have right on my side, as Jeffries promised to give me a return match. He is a 'square' fellow, and I believe when I personally put it to him in the right way he will see the justice of my claims and agre to meet me in the ring. Any way, I shall do all I can to have him do s "How many rounds will you fight him?" was asked.

"He is the champion, you know, and will dictate terms," said Corbett. "I would like to meet him in a contest of not less than twenty rounds, nor more than twenty-five. The former, I think, would be preferable. I am in the best of condition now, and if we are matched I will be able to enter the ring in better condition than I was ever in for any battle,"

Humors

The Digestive Organs

Some humors are inherited; others are acquired, commonly through derangements of the digestive organs.

Whether inherited or acquired, they are radically and permanently removed by one and the same medicine, and that is Hood's Sarsaparilla, - it cleanses the blood, perfects digestion, cures dyspepsia, stops all eruptions, clears the complexion, builds up the whole system. For various reasons humors are most quickly removed in the Spring. Take Hood's this Spring.

> "We have been using Hood's Sarsaparilla for several years past and it has always given the best of satisfaction, especially as a Spring medicine. It builds up the general system and gives new life. I heartily recommend it to the public." Dwigar C. PARK, Whiteland, Ind.

ACCEPT NO SUBSTITUTE FOR HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA.
